You are invited to the 42nd Soifer, formerly the Colorado, Mathematical Olympiad at the University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS). This event is for Colorado students in grades 5-12 and is free of charge. This is an individual competition that does not require any school performance prerequisites. Participants may use calculators but not the internet. We recommend that participants bring a sack lunch and drinks.

Parking is free for the event on both days in lots 220, 222 and 224.
